Docket No. R2000-1

PRESIDING OFFICER'S RULING GRANTING
MOTION ON CONSENT OF UNITED PARCEL SERVICE
TO ADOPT PROTECTIVE CONDITIONS FOR DATA REQUESTED
IN INTERROGATORIES UPS/USPS-T1-20, 23(b), AND 29(b)

March 20, 2000

Intervenor United Parcel Service has directed interrogatories to the Postal Service requesting the production of certain data files related to the TRACS system. The Service filed a partial objection to some of these interrogatories, and identified three library references as containing responsive material it regards as trade secrets and commercially sensitive information. However, in a motion filed on March 17,¹ UPS reports that the Postal Service has stated that it has no objection to producing these files—identified as library references USPS-LR-I-211, 212, and 214—under the same set of protective conditions adopted in P. O. Ruling No. R2000-1/11 for certain materials supporting the testimony of Postal Service witness Yezer. For this reason, UPS moves for application of these protective conditions to the referenced library references to facilitate their production by the Service and their examination.

Because movant UPS does not dispute the Postal Service's position that these library references contain commercially sensitive information, and the Service is amenable to their production under protective conditions already in force in this proceeding, I shall grant the motion. Because the library references have already been prepared,² I shall direct the Postal Service to file them with the Commission within three days.

RULING

2. The United States Postal Service is granted leave to file library references USPS-LR-I-211, 212, and 214 subject to the protective conditions attached to this ruling.
3. The Postal Service shall file library references USPS-LR-I-211, 212, and 214 with the Commission by the close of business on March 23, 2000.
